New Floor Lamp

minating nearly the entire ont of the residence, a festive Yuletide electrical display at E. A. Day's home, 1823 Amapola avenue, won for the owner a beautiful lumidor reflector type floor lamp, given by the Southern California Edison Company after a committee of three judges inspected the exterior displays Tuesday night.

The judges—Dean L. Sears, Ray Brooks and Alden Smith—toured the city with Dick Yoder, local manager for the utility company, and unanimously selected the Day illumination as being the most original, artistic and interesting of the 30 or more Christmas lighting displays.

Two Honorable Mentions
Mr. and Mrs. Day have a small tree with blue lamps in their front window while the front yard and main facade of the house is illuminated by multi-colored globes strung on a growing tree. Honorable mention was given by the judges to Dr. J. S. Lancaster's exterior illumination at 1503 Post avenue, and to J. J. Byrnes' display at 2026 Carson street.

"The Southern California Edison Company is delighted to award the floor lamp, which has been on view in our show windows for the past two weeks to Mr. and Mrs. Day," Yoder said Wednesday. "We offered the award to encourage exterior illumination at Christmas time, believing that the outdoor displays, however modest, carried a broader Yuletide message that all passers-by could enjoy."

Jane Celebrates Seventh Birthday

When tiny tots turn actor they have no end of fun. This fact was made known at the birthday party Tuesday, Dec.
23, when Jane Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Scotton, 1438 El Prado, invited 14 of her little friends to help celebrate her seventh birthday.

A number of the children are dance pupils and they started by showing each other steps.
Jane decided to give everyone a chance to perform. The afternoon passed all too soon. Some read, some danced, some sang and still others offered game suggestions.

As it was Christmas week, the home was gay with the usual Yule trimmings and each child was presented with a stocking filled with goodies. A birthday cake was cut by the little hostess and served with ice cream to Louis Kelsey, Chester Acre, Nancy Ann Whyte, Arlene Atwood, Jean Hamilton, Juanita Richie, Karmee Dolley, Doris Lee and Marlene Quaglin, Marilyn Modglin, Dolores Ullright, Frances Barrington, Leona Hendricks and Janet Probert.

Marion Sears to Ride Float in Pasadena Friday

Here are the 13 high school-girl beauties selected as favorite daughters of the 13 cities comprising the Metropolitan Water District of Southern California. Miss Marion Sears, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dean L.
Sears, is this city's representative.

Chosen for their charm, they will portray the romance of "The Fountain of Youth" on a Tournament of Roses float Friday in Pasadena which will symbolize the achievements of the district workers who are now building the giant Colorado river aqueduct.

A KNITTED PULLOVER FOR A WELL-DRESSED MAN

WHAT man in the family wouldn't appreciate a hand-knit pullover, conservatively styled with a band of color around the neck and armholes and a broad one around the waist. It is knitted of knitting and crochet cotton and washes well. Directions may be obtained by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to The Crochet Bureau, 523 Fifth Avenue, New York City. Specify Knitted Pullover #315.

Recreation Club Has Yule Party

Nearly 100 members of the Get-together Club, sponsored by the Torrance Recreation department, celebrated their first Christmas party with exchange of gifts and a dance at the Recreation Center, 1916 Border avenue, last Wednesday night.

The presents were distributed on the basis of names drawn at the last business meeting of the club with the value of the gifts limited to 25 cents. A Los Angeles WPA orchestra played for the dance. Girls of the club, directed by Roy Chambers and Vera Sheen, spent several days in preparation for the entertainment.
